

NJLS offers morning delivery service

In response to requests from multiple clients, effective June 3, 2019, NJLS is offering customers morning package delivery. Customers with afternoon pickups can get an early start on material being delivered to them while still receiving their later pickup service.

NJLS's client-base includes thousands of business and legal professionals exchanging documents and other material. For a small fee NJLS will ensure that information is in their hands early enough in the day to be worked on, that day.

The new fee, billed monthly, is $200.

Customers wishing to receive the service can contact us by email at: customerservice@njls.com; or by phone at 908-686-7300, option #4.
